

Scottish Society of Botanical Artists

BOTANICAL ART COURSES, SCOTLAND

The SSBA is pleased to offer Introductory and Intermediate botanical art courses in the north and south of Scotland, both for beginners and those with some experience.

The courses are open to SSBA members, other individuals and art groups in the south and north of Scotland. There will be 8 courses, with 12 places available on each course.

Funded by the Finnis Scott Foundation, the training course tuition is offered free to artists. Art materials, travel, accommodation and evening meal costs are not included.

Background

Botanical Illustration goes back to the 16th century with works by Leonardo da Vinci. From then on, many painters were depicting botanical art. Botanical Illustration was the original method used by artists who travelled with the early explorers to record the new species they found as they explored the world.

Today detailed plant portraits are still used as scientific images for things such as botanical textbooks but it has also evolved into an art form.

Botanical art today, although botanically correct, often has a more aesthetic quality. Artists are constantly pushing the boundaries and produce amazing art works.

These intensive courses aim to introduce you to this world and help you appreciate the fine detail in flowers, trees, vegetables and much more and then how to record them.

The Finnis Scott
Foundation

Registered charity 1121475

Registered charity SC0455778

Scottish Society of Botanical Artists

BOTANICAL ART COURSES, SCOTLAND

Course Overviews

The Introductory course is for anyone interested in exploring Botanical Art and although watercolour experience is not essential it would certainly help.

Over the weekend you will be introduced to:

- The materials used such as paper, paints, pencils, etc
- The relevance of detailed observation of your subject
- The importance of accurate measurement of your subject and the relevance of perspective
- The relevance and importance of dark and light in your painting, tonal values
- The basics of watercolour paint application with accurate colour matching

The Intermediate course is aimed at helping the participants to further develop their botanical art skills and some previous experience is necessary.

It will cover different techniques used in botanical painting, such as dry brush work, stippling, fine detail, enlarging subjects, etc.

Over the weekend you will:

- Review materials used, measurement and watercolour techniques
- Have the opportunity to appreciate the effectiveness of tonal values to create depth and perspective
- Be introduced to different painting techniques

The Finnis Scott
Foundation

Registered charity 1121475

Registered charity SC0455778

Scottish Society of Botanical Artists

BOTANICAL ART COURSES, SCOTLAND

- Look at how to achieve shine and fine details, such as hairs
- Look at methods used to correct mistakes!
- Explore different types of composition

Both courses will comprise group demonstrations followed by personal practice. Individual guidance will also be given as required. A list of materials required for each course will be sent out when you are accepted onto the course.

Venues

South of Scotland Courses - Dumfries

The venue for the south of Scotland is the town of Dumfries, in Dumfries & Galloway. Dumfries is on the A75, a short distance from the A74(M) accessible by bus as well as by car.

The courses will be held at Crichton Central on the southern outskirts of Dumfries.

We can provide information on local accommodation options for the October 2022 course upon request.

For April 2023, October 2023 and April 2024 courses, single occupancy room accommodation is available at the nearby Holiday Inn, a 6-minute walk from the meeting room.

If you prefer to arrange your own accommodation, or live within daily travelling distance, we'd be delighted if you would still join us for dinner on either or both evenings, as an opportunity to socialise with other attendees.

The Finnis Scott
Foundation

Registered charity 1121475

Registered charity SC0455778

Scottish Society of Botanical Artists

BOTANICAL ART COURSES, SCOTLAND

North of Scotland Courses - Aviemore

The venue for the north of Scotland courses is Aviemore, in the Cairngorms National Park. Aviemore is just 31 miles from Inverness and 93 miles from Aberdeen. It's on the Highland Main Line train service and accessible from across Scotland by bus as well as by car.

The courses will be held at Macdonald Aviemore Resort Conference Centre. Accommodation is available at the Macdonald Highlands Hotel next door, just a 3 minute walk from the meeting room.

If you prefer to arrange your own accommodation, or live within daily travelling distance, we'd be delighted if you would still join us for dinner on either or both evenings, as an opportunity to socialise with other attendees.

Costs

Funded by the Finnis Scott Foundation Botanical Art Prize 2022, www.finnis-scott-foundation.org.uk, the SSBA course tutoring plus tea, coffee and lunch during the course is provided free of charge to attendees.

Attendees will need to cover own costs for travel, art materials and, where required, accommodation, breakfast and dinner.

The Finnis Scott
Foundation

Registered charity 1121475

Registered charity SC0455778

Scottish Society of Botanical Artists

BOTANICAL ART COURSES, SCOTLAND

South of Scotland Courses - Dumfries

Accommodation for the following courses is available at the Holiday Inn, Bankend Road, Dumfries. The costs include single room occupancy, 3-course dinner, bed and breakfast:

Course	Cost
April 2023	£121 per night
October 2023	£121 per night
April 2024	Approx. £121 per night

The cost of the 3-course dinner for non-residents is £30.

North of Scotland Course - Aviemore

Accommodation is available, at a preferential rate to course attendees, at the Macdonald Highlands Hotel, Aviemore. The costs include single room occupancy, dinner (up to £25), bed and breakfast:

Course	Cost
October 2022	£135 per night
April 2023	£140 per night
October 2023	£140 per night
April 2024	£145 per night

The Finnis Scott
Foundation

Registered charity 1121475

Registered charity SC0455778

Scottish Society of Botanical Artists

BOTANICAL ART COURSES, SCOTLAND

Timetable

Course dates are:

Course	Location	Dates
Introductory	Dumfries	Fri, 14 th to Sun, 16 th October 2022
Introductory	Aviemore	Fri, 21 st to Sun, 23 rd October 2022
Intermediate	Dumfries	Fri, 14 th to Sun, 16 th April 2023
Intermediate	Aviemore	Fri, 28 th to Sun, 30 th April 2023
Introductory	Dumfries	Fri, 29 th September to Sun, 1 st Oct October 2023
Introductory	Aviemore	Fri, 20 th to Sun, 22 nd October 2023
Intermediate	Dumfries	Fri, 5 th to Sun, 7 th April 2024
Intermediate	Aviemore	Fri, 19 th to Sun, 21 st April 2024

Weekend course schedule:

Day	Activities
Friday	6pm welcome, 6pm evening discussion (approx. 1 hour)
Saturday	10am-4pm - art classes, morning tea/coffee, lunch and afternoon tea/coffee
Sunday	10am-3pm - art classes, morning tea/coffee, lunch and afternoon tea/coffee

The Finnis Scott
Foundation

Registered charity 1121475

Registered charity SC0455778

Scottish Society of Botanical Artists

BOTANICAL ART COURSES, SCOTLAND

Application for October 2022 Introductory Courses

To apply for the October 2022 Introductory courses, complete the application form:

October 2022 Courses Application Form

Places are at a premium so we encourage applicants to apply as soon as possible. Priority will be given to applicants from the south and north of Scotland. You can be added to a waiting list once the course is full, in case of any cancellations.

Applications open: 15th July 2022

Applications close: 31st August 2022

Attendee places confirmed: 7th September 2022

To Register Interest

To register your individual or an organisation's interest now in the April 2023 Intermediate courses, October 2023 Introductory Courses or April 2024 Intermediate courses, please complete this form:

Register Interest Form

Applications will be open as follows:

Course Dates	Applications Open	Applications Close	Place Confirmed
April 2023	1 st January 2023	31 st January 2023	14 th February 2023
October 2023	1 st July 2023	31 st July 2023	14 th August 2023
April 2024	1 st January 2024	31 st January 2024	14 th February 2024

The Finnis Scott
Foundation

Registered charity 1121475

Registered charity SC0455778

Scottish Society of Botanical Artists BOTANICAL ART COURSES, SCOTLAND

To Contact the SSBA

Email: contact@thessba.org

The information provided in this document may be subject to change. Anyone applying for a course or registering interest will be updated of any changes as soon as it is practicable to do so.

The Finnis Scott
Foundation

Registered charity 1121475

Registered charity SC0455778